

NYC Dilemma

Text and music © 2002 by Jack Curtis Dubowsky / De Stijl Music (BMI)

Will I wake up?
What time is it?
Should I get out of bed?
What time is it?
Will I wake up?

I have a meeting!
Should I go into my survival job?
No, I have a meeting.
I have a meeting!

Where is the F Train taking me?
The E is running on the F line.
If the E is running on the F line, is it an E or is it an F?
Where is the F line taking me?
This is an E Train to Queens running on the F line.
If this is an E Train running on the F line, is it an E or is it an F?
Where is the F Train taking me?

I will go to my thug gym.
There are no showers.
But it's only twenty-five dollars a year.
I will go to my thug gym.
There are no showers.
But it's only twenty-five dollars a year.
I will go to my thug gym.
There are no showers.
But it's only twenty-five dollars a year.

I would like to eat lunch, but I have no money.
I would like to eat lunch, but I must leave my apartment.
I must leave my apartment, but I have no money.
I would like to eat lunch.

What does the thermometer outside say?
I have to leave my apartment.
I would like to eat lunch, but I would have to leave my apartment.
What does the thermometer outside say?

The E is running on the F line!
This is an E Train to Queens running on the F line.
The E is running on the F line.
This is an E Train to Queens running on the F line.